RUSSIA FACES GREAT CRISIS

Internal Affairs, and Not the War.

New Liberal Movement Is Widening and Gaining in Momentum.

Powerful Influences at Work, but Di- vorced From Any Radical Revolu- tionary Propaganda.

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 13.—Russia is facing a great internal crisis, which in the minds of intelligent Russians, overshadows in importance all questions relating to foreign politics. A new, broad and liberal movement seems not only under way, but gaining momentum daily, and the best features of it is that it is entirely divorced from any radical revolutionary propaganda.

Such an unprecedented publication made the Russian public rub its eyes in amazement. Prince Oskolnsky, editor of the Vedomosti, said today that never within the memory of Russian newspapers had there been done so quickly and without public proclamation the things that have been done in the past few days. For instance, the old press law is still hanging over the heads of editors like a sword of Damocles. The machinery of repression exists, but is not in operation. In the meantime, about the head of Prince Sviatopolk-Mirsky has raged a storm of opposition. All the reactionary elements, including the solid bureaucracy, have used all the weapons at hand to undermine him. M. Pobedonostsev, procurator of the holy synod, has warned the emperor that if rumors attributed to Prince Sviatopolk-Mirsky are true, the emperor's circle will be in danger if the present movement is not stopped promptly.

False Reports by Enemies.
A week ago it was actually believed that Prince Sviatopolk-Mirsky had been overthrown, but subsequent developments proved the contrary. Nevertheless, his enemies persistently keep reports afloat that the health of the Minister of the Interior is bad, and that the nature of the campaign which he is fighting is enough to shatter the health of a strong man. In the character of the elements which have rallied to his support, however, the Russian public has no doubts. They include neither radicals nor revolutionaries, but the great mass of conservative, liberal-minded Russians, who believe that the salvation and progress of the empire lies in a large liberty, but who have not a particle of sympathy for the radicals or revolutionaries. In the present circumstances some of the Minister's own friends are counseling him to allow a postponement until January, when the radicals too radical expression of views in the agitation raised might furnish too much ammunition for the opposition.

Trying to Postpone Meeting.
The enemies of the Minister of the Interior have not only succeeded in postponing the meeting of the presidents of the thirty-eight provincial Zemstvos which is scheduled for next Saturday, and in the present circumstances some of the Minister's own friends are counseling him to allow a postponement until January, when the radicals too radical expression of views in the agitation raised might furnish too much ammunition for the opposition.

Policy of Reaction.
The policy of reaction which had grown steadily since the accession of Alexander III, seemed suddenly to lose its main buttress when Minister Plehve fell. With the advent of Prince Sviatopolk-Mirsky and his frank appeal for a policy of mutual confidence between government and people, a tremendous liberal rebound occurred, raising, perhaps, unjustifiably, high hopes and aspirations. An American enjoying absolute political freedom can hardly appreciate the full significance of the changes that have occurred since Sviatopolk-Mirsky's inauguration or what they mean in a land of absolute freedom. The Russian people, if not reversed, has been greatly ameliorated, and the Finnish National Diet will meet next month. Yesterday prominent Finlanders who were exiled under the Plehve regime received permission to return to their own country or to go abroad if they desired to do so.

Policy of Reaction.
The oppressive activity of the police has been reduced to a minimum. The Russian people, if not reversed, has been greatly ameliorated, and the Finnish National Diet will meet next month. Yesterday prominent Finlanders who were exiled under the Plehve regime received permission to return to their own country or to go abroad if they desired to do so.

throughout the empire has been largely relaxed; banishment by administrative order has been abolished; hundreds of political prisoners exiled to Siberia have been recalled; the Jews have received assurances of the dawning of a brighter day. The doors have been thrown open at two of the biggest trials proceeding in Russia (the Schaumann treason trial and the Jewish trial at Gomel), and the method of treating student demonstrations has been radically changed. Persecution is being substituted for Cossack charges.

Amazed the Russians.
All accounts of the Schaumann and Gomel trials have been printed, and particulars of student demonstrations, with resolutions offered at the Polytechnic institute declaring that what was wanted was not confidence, but an end of the war and the immediate convocation of a national assembly.

Zemstvo, who will preside at the meeting, favors this temporary policy. It is even rumored that Prince Sviatopolk-Mirsky is wavering, though his friends declare that this is untrue. The whole question will be decided by the emperor early in the week. Some of the President already here are excited over the possibility of postponement, declaring that if the meeting is formally postponed it will be held surreptitiously.

Would Be Crushing Blow.
Undoubtedly postponement would be a crushing blow and create an exceedingly bad impression. This is due to the fact that the meeting has been clothed with a sentimental importance hardly justified by its actual powers. It is purely unofficial, without direct authority to act; but it is the first time of an authorized assembly of representatives of the Zemstvo from all over Russia. The meeting is not intended to be of a public character with the program and the decision of three points, namely:

First—The conditions which have prevented Zemstvo activity during the war. Second—The organization of a central administration of agriculture of the country. Third—Co-operation of local Zemstvo hospitals in the case of wounded people.

MORRIS SOMMER KILLED IN MINE

Fatal Fall in Steele Shaft.

Meets Death While Inspect- ing Strike in Park City Mine.

Overcome With Heart Failure While Climbing Ladder—Popular Utah Citizen.

SPECIAL TO THE TRIBUNE.
PARK CITY, Nov. 13.—Probably overcome by heart failure, while ascending a ladder in a shallow shaft at the Steele group in the northern part of this camp at noon today, Judge Morris Sommer of Salt Lake City fell a distance of about fifteen feet and was almost instantly killed.

Judge Sommer, who is secretary of the Steele Consolidated company, came out yesterday morning to inspect the property and to examine the strike which has recently been made. In company with Mr. Steele he went to examine this morning for the purpose of making an investigation and procuring a sample to be assayed. The shaft is down about twenty-five feet and from the bottom of the shaft Mr. Steele runs twenty-five or thirty feet further.

Examined the Ore Body.
At the bottom of this incline lies the ore body. In order to reach it one must descend the shaft by means of ladders. When they reached the mine Mr. Steele said: "Morris, you had better let me go down and you remain here on top."

"No, I am out here for the purpose of making this investigation," said Judge Sommer, "and I will go down and see for myself."

Sommer answered, "All right." Steele climbed to the top of the shaft and waited three or four minutes for Mr. Sommer to come out. Then he shouted down and asked what was the matter. Sommer replied:

"I'm all right now and am coming up."

Saw Him Fall From Ladder.
Steele sat watching him as he started to ascend and when he was twelve or fifteen feet up the ladder saw him tumble, let go the ladder with both hands and fall.

Mr. Steele immediately hastened to the bottom of the shaft and to his inquiry as to whether Mr. Sommer was injured, the latter replied:

Find Big Ore Body at 1,000-Foot Level

Enormous Ledge in Iron Silver Mine, With High Percentages of Silver and Lead.

Special to The Tribune.

LEADVILLE, Colo., Nov. 13.—The Iron Silver company has uncovered a new body of ore at a depth of more than 1,000 feet, which is enormous in extent and runs 500 to 600 ounces silver per ton, with a high percentage of lead. The company is sinking a new shaft at the north end of the Meyer placer, the purpose of which is to develop the new discovery made by the diamond drill sinking in its Tucson claim.

The original shaft on the Tucson was sunk 600 feet, but was constantly impeded by excessive water, which has since disappeared owing to the pumping in the down-town area of the old workings at the bottom of this shaft over 1,000 feet was extracted.

Since the water disappeared a number of drill holes have been sunk to a depth of 500 feet, making a total depth of 1,500 feet. At this depth the drills disclosed one of the richest bodies of mineral ever found in Leadville district.

It is shown to be more than 400 feet in length, more than 200 feet in width, thirty feet in thickness and runs all the way from 300 to 600 ounces silver per ton and very high lead.

This discovery shows the enormous strength and continuity of the iron and silver ore in the Leadville district, and is a most encouraging discovery to the company, which is now successfully working in the Belvidere and the Sulphur perambulation on Rock hill. The Iron Silver has already produced about 100,000 ounces.

MISSIONARY APPROPRIATION
Believed Boxer Uprising in 1900
Opened New Fields of Endeavor.

BOSTON, Nov. 12.—At Saturday's session of the General Missionary committee of the Methodist Episcopal church much time was devoted to the consideration of the missionary situation in Eastern Asia, including China, Japan and Korea. It was shown that the Boxer uprising of 1900, instead of proving a setback to the advance of Christianity, had resulted in a multiplication of opportunities for preaching and teaching, and that every province of China is now open to gospel effort. The mission schools, it was pointed out, are unable to admit a considerable fraction of the Chinese men and women seeking admission.

Appropriations were made for these countries as follows: China, $29,742; Japan, $5,600; Korea, $25,000. This is a total increase over the appropriations for the three countries for the last year of $23,000.

GUN FACTORY CAN'T KEEP UP

Navy Demands Overtax Capacity.

Also Lack of Officers for Ordnance Duty at Washington.

Rear-Admiral Mason Recommends Increasing the Supply of Or- dnance Experts.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13.—Lack of officers for ordnance duty and the overtaxing of the naval gun factory at Washington, continue to be the two most serious problems facing the bureau of ordnance, according to the annual report of Rear-Admiral Mason, chief of ordnance, just approved by Secretary Morton.

The report recommends a plan of reorganization of the bureau, with a view to increasing the supply of ordnance experts. Of the rank of work at the naval gun factory, Rear-Admiral Mason says: "The naval gun factory has been running night and day at full capacity, and although good progress has been made, the congested condition of all work there gives assurance that its capacity is overtaxed, and must, unless this capacity is materially increased, eventually result in failure to supply the ordnance outfits of ships in time to meet the demands of the contractors."

Twenty Guns Ready.
Of the fifty-two twelve-inch guns required, the twenty for the Virginia class have been completed, six of the 14-caliber guns are being machined, and the forgings for twenty-two of the remaining have been ordered and are being delivered. Nine ten-inch guns are under construction. Of the 133 eight-inch guns required, twenty-four 40-caliber guns for the Pennsylvania class of armored cruisers are nearly completed.

The naval gun factory will make sixteen of the thirty-seven seven-inch guns required, the others having been contracted for by private companies. Of the 250 six-inch, 30-caliber guns required, those for the Pennsylvania class of armored cruisers have been completed, and 144 guns required for the battleships of the Virginia class and the armored cruisers of the Tennessee and St. Louis classes are being manufactured.

Waiting for Semi-Automatic Gun.
For the armament of all vessels building 48 three-inch, 50-caliber guns are required. One hundred and twenty-five of these have been provided for, and further orders have been placed pending the development of an efficient semi-automatic gun of this caliber. A vast amount of work has also been done by the factory in alterations and repairs of ordnance material. Estimates for the improvement of the gun factory and increase of the plant are renewed.

Delays in Armor.
There have recently been some delays to ship contractors caused by the non-delivery of armor, but the opinion is expressed that this was not due to related armor deliveries, but to unusually rapid ship construction. The delay in the delivery of armor is not greater than is required to meet the demands of the service. Armor deliveries in the year have increased, and the manufacture of armor, the report says, has progressed in a satisfactory manner.

SUNDAY ACCIDENT

Special to The Tribune.
OGDEN, Utah, Nov. 13.—Edson P. Halsted, son of E. O. Halsted, locomotive engineer for the Southern Pacific, accidentally shot himself through the head this afternoon about 4:30 o'clock while driving along the dugway leading from Ogden to Ogden Canyon. Halsted and Herbert Hiney, with another boy, were out hunting and the Halsted boy was carrying the 22-caliber rifle between his knees, when it was discharged and the bullet entered the head of Halsted, facing the side of the nose just below the left eye. It ranged back coming out at the back of the head, and shattered the skull. His companions hastened with him to his home and Doctors Forbes, Smith and Perkins were summoned.

The physicians found the boy in a critical condition, and recovery is doubtful. At midnight tonight Halsted was still alive but it is not thought he can recover.

The Grand Opera Athletic association will open for business in the Grand opera house block Tuesday evening. Joseph Ruffa is proprietor and manager and Charles Adams, one of the best athletic instructors in the West, will have charge of the instruction of the pupils.

E. O. Watts of the Utah Construction company returned today from the World's fair.

David Kay, formerly of Ogden but now of Sacramento, Cal., is critically ill at Nevada City, Nev. His father, W. O. Kay, received a telegram saying that his father was seriously ill and he left over the Southern Pacific for his bedside.
